DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 05/12/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claims 1-21 are pending.

Claims 1, 5-10, and 17-20 have been amended to overcome rejections under 35 USC § 112, second paragraph. This matter is appreciated.

In the arguments Applicant generally stated that "The point of the present invention is to assemble sets in which the blades fall into the same flow capability classification" thus admitting that Claim 21 is a product-by-process claim and therefore the structure claimed is identical to that described in the reference presented by the examiner and thus anticipated by the reference because patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. See MPEP 2113.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipating by Jacala et al. (5,536,143).

In figures 3 and 6, Jacala et al. teach a gas turbine engine comprising gas turbine engine components 46 assembled into sets 38, each said component 46 having flow passages 84,86,88,90,92,94,96,98 establishing a flow capability classification, wherein each said component in a set has the same flow capability classification.

Note. Claim 21 is a product-by-process claim and the apparatus or structure claimed is identical to that described in the reference presented by the examiner and thus anticipated by the reference because patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. See MPEP 2113.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-20 are allowed.
